

THE PHANTOM ALARM

THE NEW ALTERNATIVE KNOGO PUBLICATION

PRICE Technicians - Free
Salesmen - £3.75p

Welcome to the first edition of a new technical bulletin, it is aimed at informing technical staff of developments between meetings in a light hearted way. The publication may occasionally contain comments and wit supplied by individual staff, therefore opinions expressed in this publication are not necessarily those of the Editor or other compositors. All those who submit articles for publication will remain anonymous (unless they are stupid enough to want there name printed) as will the Editorial staff, this is to protect the innocent (and the guilty). So read on and hopefully have fun.

Keep this mag. alive. I feel sure submissions technical or otherwise, if sent to the technical dept. might somehow find their way to the newsroom.
Ed.

WRAP DESK REVELATIONS

All you wanted to know about the wrap 81 but could'nt give a dam about is revealed on page 2.

WELCOME BACK KEN

Ken Austin arrives back after his short convalescence. Mind you Ken. You should have been forewarned, checking Pat's expenses would have a similar effect on most people!

LOST & FOUND

See the lost & found column, this holds great potential at the ultimate one liner dig.

STOP PRESS

The area devoted to late news:

SAL MARCHES....

Sally Elms, as she hated to be called, has heeded the piper. Is there political intrigue here? Don't miss next months PHANTOM ALARM the paper that digs deeper than the STAR.

THIS YEARS MODELS IN

Turn to page 3 for the company car special feature article.

DISCLAIMER - The Editor is in no way responsible for the material content of this rag. (most would say he is illiterate anyway)

